What is the INTA Daily News?

WIPR are pleased to be collaborating with the International Trademark Association (INTA) to exclusively produce the official INTA Daily News for the INTA Annual Meeting 2018 in Seattle, the largest gathering of trademark professionals in the world.

The INTA Daily News is the only official daily source of news at the INTA Annual Meeting. Copies will be available to all attendees every morning over the five days at the conference venue.

Accompanying each day's print news will be a digital newsletter, sent to all the INTA membership as well as WIPR newsletter recipients. This will include the stories from the day's newsletter, as well as video content and special, digital-only features.

WIPR has been selected to combine INTA critical information such as daily schedules with captivating and thought-provoking editorial content written by our team of experienced journalists. We work closely and exclusively with INTA to ensure the content is useful, engaging and essential to your meeting experience.

Delegates rely on these newsletters to maximise their experience at the Annual Meeting, not only to organise their days but also to keep updated with the latest announcements, view roundups of major sessions and read exclusive interviews with key people in the industry.

No other print media have access to all of the Annual Meeting delegates and many of the world's leading trademark professionals. The INTA Daily News is the most relied upon source of INTA Annual Meeting information and represents a huge opportunity for you to showcase your firm in this unique publication, and influence the widest-possible audience in the most immediate and effective manner.

Content

The INTA Daily News will be written by WIPR journalists reporting live from the event. Content is planned in conjunction with INTA to ensure only the most useful and engaging articles are published to enhance your Annual Meeting experience.

This content will include:

- Official INTA information, maps, sponsor information and announcements
- Interviews with key figures in INTA, and also with leading industry lights
- Coverage of the main sessions and keynotes
- Social media round-ups
- The lowdown on the best receptions at the Meeting
- The INTA Daily News is the only way attendees can get a physical copy of the daily schedule.

Audience (print and digital)

All Annual Meeting attendees (estimated 9500+) will have access in the conference venue to the INTA Daily Newsletter, published by WIPR.

- All INTA members will have access to the digital newsletter daily.
- All WIPR newsletter recipients will have access to the digital newsletter daily.
- This is the best trademark audience in the world.

Print advertising

The INTA Daily News provides a unique opportunity to get your message to everyone who is anyone in the trademark world.

Advertising allows you to put your brand front and centre in attendees' minds throughout the event; it demonstrates your engagement with the Annual Meeting and your support for it, as well as making your potential clients aware of your presence and expertise.

Benefits of Advertising

WIPR is also offering bespoke solutions for advertising, including native advertising, daily programme sponsorship, inserts and more. Please contact your representative about your requirements. Discounts are available for multiple insertions, depending on frequency. Premium positions will attract a surcharge.
